Raiders Slip Forest

Being physically fit for a game is half of what it takes to win. The other half is being mentally prepared, and when the Raiders came from the locker room onto the court to meet Jefferson Forest they were both physically and mentally ready.

The Raiders had four men in double figures with Robinson being top man with 16 points, Kelso, close behind shot 15, with Eggleston zipping 14. Bill Shorter was also a man with hot hands, who burned 12.

David Read was high scorer for Jefferson Forest as he shot 20 points. Waldo Freeman, for Forest, shot 12 and Arthur Read, 10. Appomattox shot 50% from the court and held Forest to 40%.

Robinson, with 30 seconds left to go, scored to bag the win 57-55 over Forest.

The Raiders have found the mental factor in winning and with the talent on the Squad, should have a better second half season than the first.

Freddy Lawson, player for the Golden State Warriors, dribbles to the corner as he is guarded by Tim Tillery, a starter for the Bucks. It is good to see the youth interested in competitive sports. Not only do they learn the skills of basketball but they also learn the importance of sportsmanship in today's athetics.

Raiderettes 9th Win

Maryjane Smith, with 24 points, and Deborah McIvor, with 8 points, lead the Raiderettes to a 49-23 victory over Jefferson Forest Tuesday, January 13. Forest didn't have any one player to shot in double figures, but Shelia Branch was the highest scorer with 8 points.

Jefferson-Forest played a strong first quarter and matched the Raiderettes 8-8. The second quarter was the turning point of the game with the Raiderettes taking the lead 22-12. From then on Jefferson-Forest's attempts were darkened by a strong Raiderette defense.

Leading the Raiderette defense was Carolyn Smith who stole 14 rebounds.

By the fourth quarter every player on the Raiderette squad had played.

The Raiderettes shot 33% from the foul line compared to a 27% for Jefferson Forest.

The Raiderettes, from the field shot 32% with Jefferson Forest shooting 25%.

After this victory the Raiderettes still show a perfect mark with nine wins.

Farm Record Books are now available. They may be picked up at any of the banks or from our office. There are two kinds of record books . . . one to record cash income and expenses and another to record inventory of building, equipment and livestock. More farmers need to use the inventory book for a better record keeping system.

The 86 senior bulls on test at Red House had their final weights on January 13. These bulls averaged 3¼ pounds a day. This is the highest gaining group of bulls ever tested in Virginia. Last year the senior bulls were the first group ever to gain 3 pounds a day. Their average was 3.04. The 1976 group did a tenth of a pound better. Surely these are the kinds of bulls that we need to be putting into our herds.

Performance testing of beef cattle has been available since the mid 50's. In Appomattox County we have 125 beef herds. There are three herds on test. This year Bob McClenny will begin the program. There are many others that need to begin weighing their calves in order that a positive breeding and selection program can be started.

The definition of a farm has been changed again. Since 1850 they've rewritten the official definition 8 times - - 4 times in the last 30 years alone - - in an effort to keep in step with the fast changing temp of modern agriculture.

Starting with the 1974 Census of Agriculture a farm is defined as any establishment from which $1000 or more agricultural products is sold or would normally be sold during a year. This differs from the old classification where a farm was any place under 10 acres with annual sales of $250 or more agricultural goods, or any place of 10 or more acres selling $50 or more.

There is further definition of a farm, dividing them into four classifications: a primary farm is any farm where the operator spends at least half of his worktime on the farm, or any farm operated by a corporation or multi-establishment firm which receives at least one-half of its gross business income from farming.

A part-time farm is one where the operator spends less than half of his worktime on the farm.

A business-associated farm is a farm operated by a corporation or multi-establishment company that receives less than one-half of its gross business income from farming.

An abnormal farm refers to those farms operated by institutions such as hospitals, schools, Indian reservations, or as experimental or research farms.

One of the reasons for changing the definition of a farm is because in the 1969 census, 22 percent of the farms sold less than $1,000 worth of farm production. Altogether they accounted for less than 0.5 percent of all farm product sales.

Correction

In the January 15, 1976 edition of the TIMES-VIRGINIAN, we reported that Mrs. Crawford Davidson had been Appomattox County Chairman of the March of Dimes for the past 22 years.

Mrs. Davidson has been associated with the March of Dimes for 22 years spending most of these years of volunteer service as Chairman of the Mother's March. She has for the past three years served as County Chairman.

We regret the error.
